The Mama Doni Band "Shabbat Shaboom" CD Review & Giveaway

I had not heard of the Mama Doni Band until a few months ago when my husband mentioned seeing this band on the E! show, "The Soup". A clip was showed of one of their appearances on a local New York news show. It was a funny coincidence that not long after I was offered a chance to review the new Mama Doni Band CD called "Shabbat Shaboom". This CD is going to be released March 22nd.

You would be correct in assuming, at least based on the title, that this group plays Jewish music...their website calls it funky music with a Jewish twist. What you get with this band and this CD is a lot of fun music to listen to. The topics she sings about are Jewish, but she does it while mixing in rock, latin, disco and reggae. It's led by Mama Doni, who is actually Doni Zasloff Thomas. This music will make you smile and tap your feet and want to dance.

This is really a fun and entertaining CD that the entire family can enjoy. My husband has this in his CD player in his car and my daughter requests it to be played as soon as she gets in each and every time...she really enjoys "Shabbat Shaboom".

You can visit the Mama Doni website to purchase their previous CD's. "Shabbat Shaboom" will be released on March 22nd and can be purchased at that time.

Thanks to Mama Doni, one lucky My Springfield Mommy reader will win a copy of "Shabbat Shaboom" on CD.

Giveaway will end at 8pm on Sunday, March 6th
